

Bespoke Driver Education Services

Tailored to meet your organisational needs to improve driver safety and meet compliance

- Format: dependent on requirements
- Location: available nationwide
- Price: dependent on requirements

Overview

No one size fits all!

In addition to our core provision, our bespoke education services can assist in developing behavioural change content to fill the skills gaps in your workforce.

Whether you need an existing course tailored or an entirely new training package crafted from scratch, we deliver excellent results from start to finish.

Bespoke Driver Education

Outcomes:

Drivers receive specific training to address their occupational needs e.g. using specially adapted vehicles

Introduction of new equipment, vehicle familiarization, policy or procedure

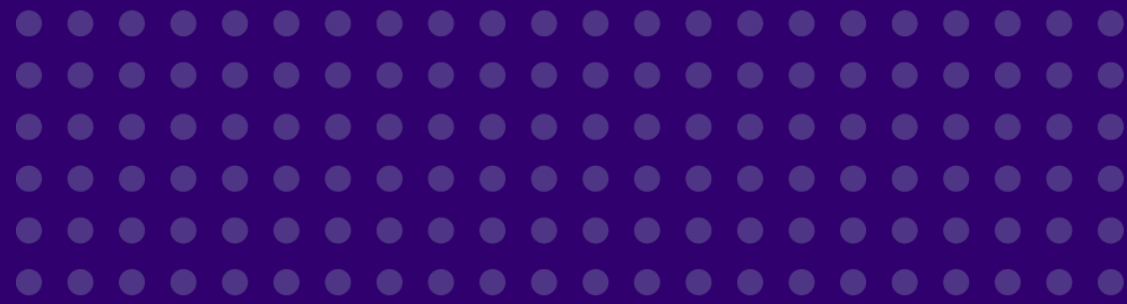

Receive training only applicable to their role or task e.g. adherence to internal policy and procedures

Training to address specific issues or collision types

'All clients are unique and experience different challenges. No one size fits all and often a bespoke training programme can gain greater traction and results'

Andy Wheeler, Head of Technical Delivery, TTC Group

Benefits to your organisation

Reduce your drivers' risks

Bespoke skills development is specifically tailored to reduce your driver risk and unique situation

Meet your specific duty of care

Our content is designed to help you meet your duty of care obligations

Improve your drivers' on-road competence and knowledge

- Targeted driver skills development to meet your organisation's challenges
- Promote driver behaviour aligned with your company's public image

Delivery method

Our approach is simple – we can work with your organisation to design and deliver a learning solution which suits you perfectly.

Content: Our content is expertly designed, will engage your workforce and is aligned to create change.

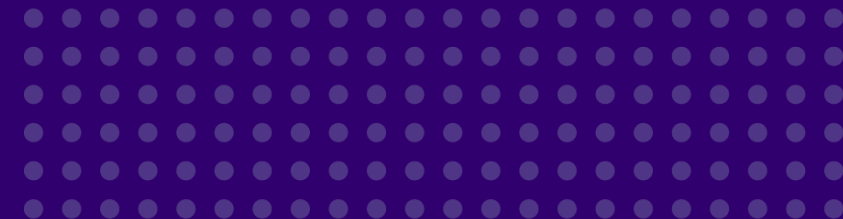

Deliver: We deliver first class learning experiences throughout the UK and beyond.

Create: Our experts will understand your challenges and create a solution which fits your requirements.

Change: We only use the best trainers to help you take your business, and people, into tomorrow.

Who should engage in these services?

Any business who operate specialist vehicles or have drivers working in unusual working environments or require detailed and targeted training.

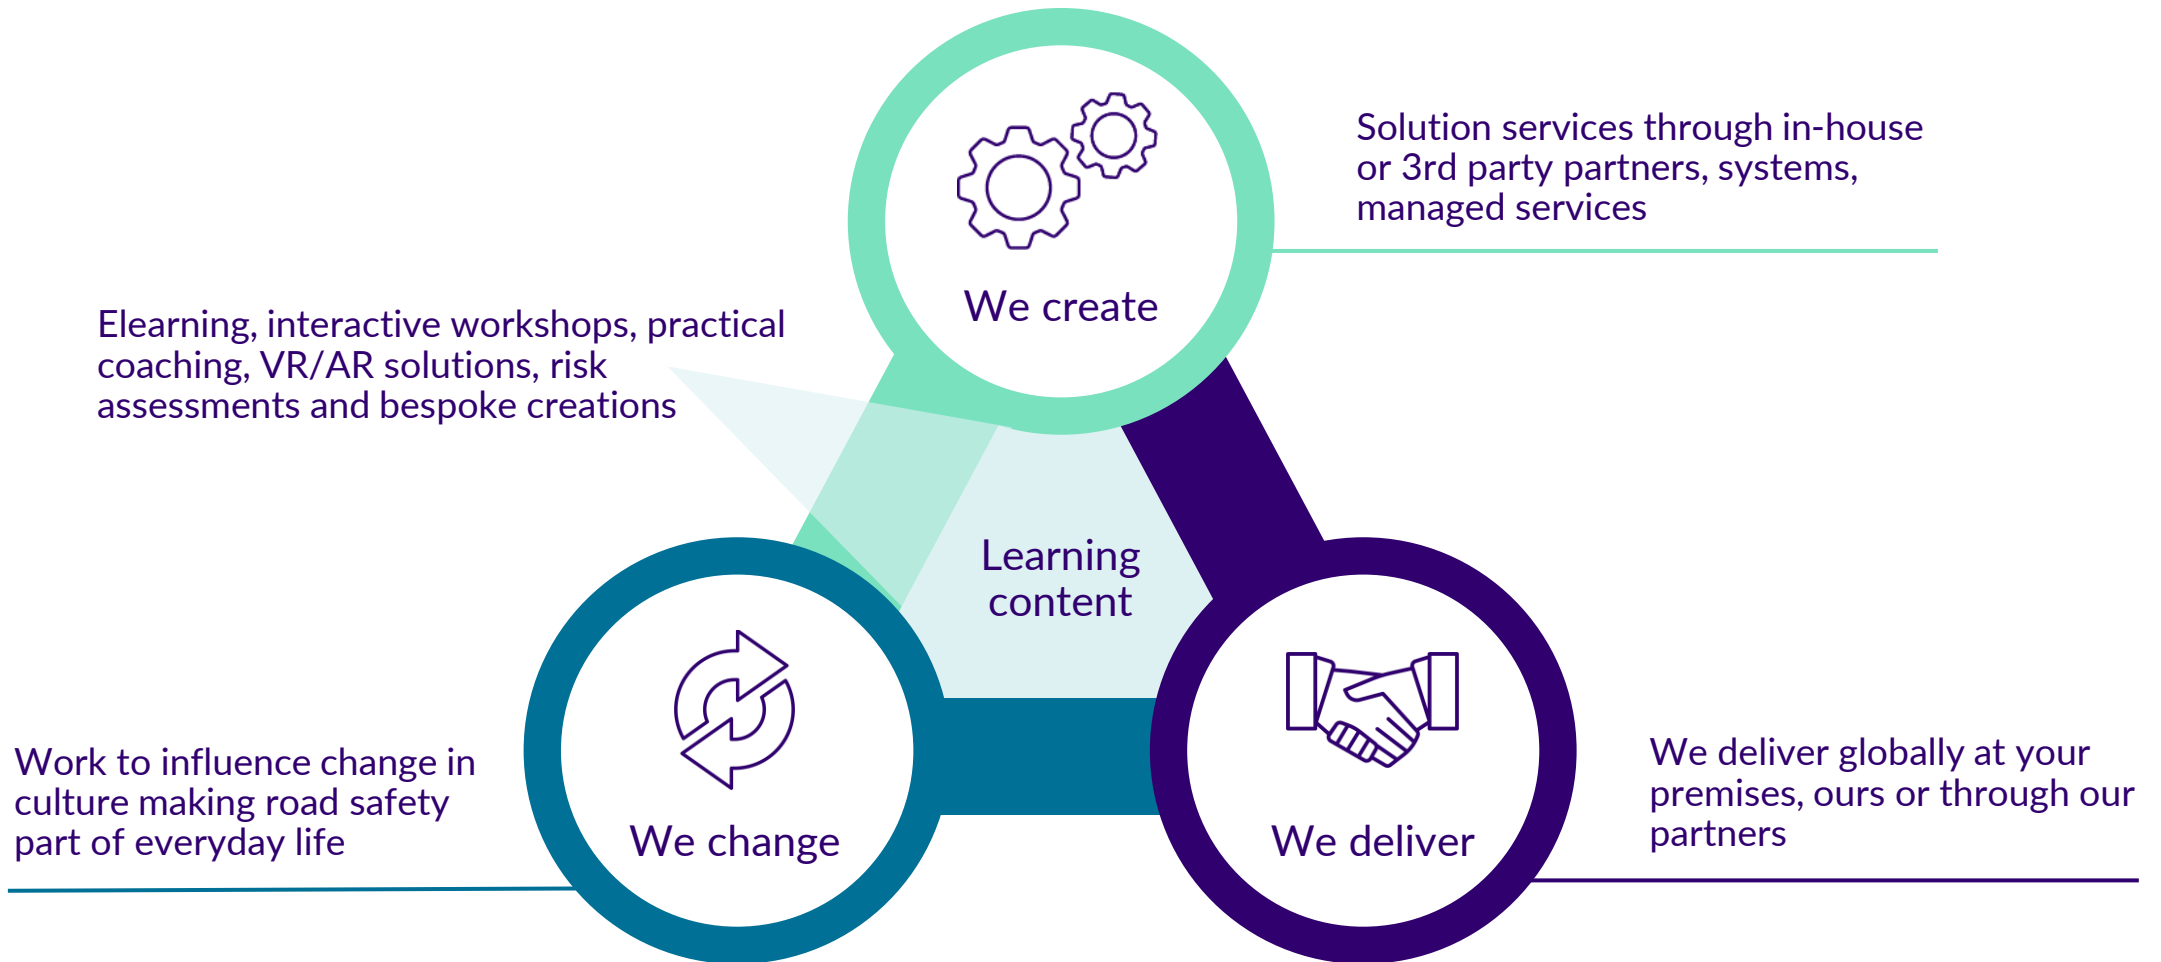

Through our specialist trainers and course designers, we can create the ideal training solution.

Logistics

We would initially engage in consultation with you to identify your individual requirements.

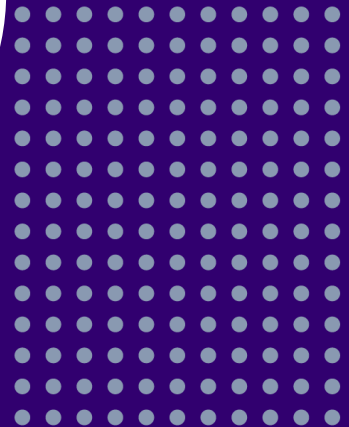

Using a learning & development approach, we would undertake a training needs analysis and identify the key learning outcomes you wish to achieve within the time and budget available.

We have access to specialist course designers as well as specialists in their respective fields.

Whatever your requirements are, we believe we can match them and create an effective training solution capable of providing measurable results.

Some of our recent projects include:

- Implementation of an internal driver training academy for a large home delivery organisation as well as creation of a quality assurance programme
- Creation of a combined workshop and driver coaching for over 100 tractor sprayer drivers throughout the UK
- Creation of specialist tourist land train driving course and internal driver assessment programme
- Creation of a eMoped delivery rider programme
